Healthcare Data Services Certified by National Committee for Quality Assurance

(Boston, MA) – Healthcare Data Services (HDS), a provider of customizable, integrated healthcare data analysis and management solutions, announced that it has received software certification from the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) for its HDS Analyst 2.0 product for 2010. Healthcare Data Services will also seek certification for 2011. NCQA Software Certification demonstrates to prospective provider organization customers the product's integrity and its ability to produce accurate and reliable results.

“We are honored to demonstrate that HDS Analyst 2.0 is tested and meets NCQA standards, and the award is a testament to the level and quality of service we strive to provide to our clients and partners,” said Bridget Buckley, Principal of HDS. “Our ultimate goal is to enhance efficiencies across financial and operational systems with our data analysis and management solutions. NCQA certification has further solidified our commitment to improving data management for healthcare providers and their members.”

Clients of HDS include Beth Israel Deaconess Physician Organization/Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Caritas Christi Network Services and New England Quality Care Alliance including Tufts Medical Center Physician Organization.
